RootsTech 2020 Mobile App Now Available That Rocks!
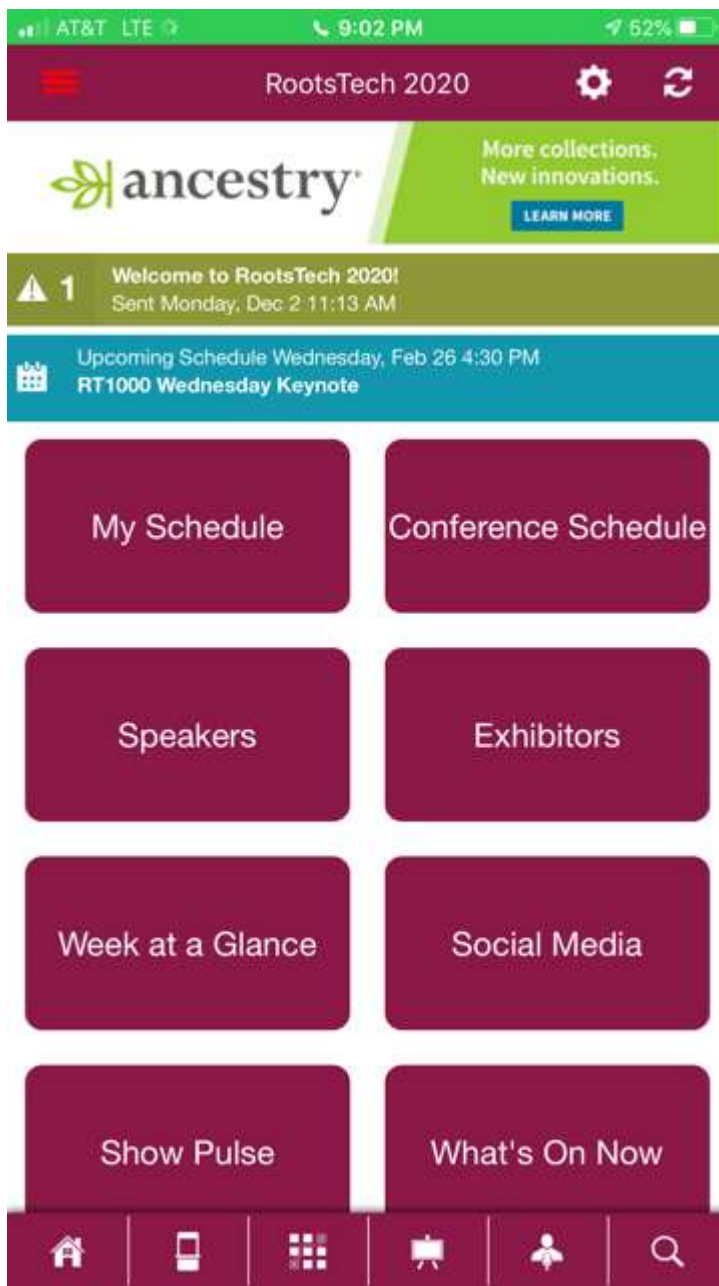

Regardless if you are attending the RootsTech 2020 Conference in Salt Lake City, February 26-29, 2020 or not, consider downloading the conference's app. Its importance is that it will clearly present the latest cutting-edge developments taking place in genealogy today and all within your finger tips. Check the diversity of information that is readily available all from one screen on a mobile device!

t's finally here! The RootsTech 2020 content is now available to also help those attending the conference to maximize your conference experience. Click here to download the app for iOS or Android devices.

I rely on the mobile app every year during RootsTech. It's the best place to easily browse the conference schedule, build your own agenda or classes and events that you don't want to miss, find speaker information, and connect with other attendees. If you already have the RootsTech app installed on your device, you can access the 2020 content by:

1. Opening the RootsTech app,
2. From the home screen, tap on the gear icon in the upper right hand corner and scroll down to tap on Exit to Conference List,
3. Select "RootsTech 2020" to access the content

The app will continue to be updated as new content is added. Closing comment: a great opportunity to be motivated to upgrade your skill set with "best practices" in genealogy today.
