

#GiveThanks for the Power of Gratitude

“Counting your blessings is always better than recounting your problems,” Russell M. Nelson told the world Friday morning at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tlcILxGmVrl>. I accept the challenge for the next seven days to turn social media into a Gratitude Journal and invite you to do likewise.

I am recovering from eye surgery, albeit my eyesight in one eye is permanently altered despite that efforts of my surgeon. Nevertheless, I am grateful for what little sight may return after losing all eyesight in that eye for the past month. I'm grateful for my wife who has helped & encouraged me through this darkness. I will remain active in my pursuits to help others in my professional, spiritual and family matters in spite of this set back.

