

Memories: What A Difference One Year Has Made between 2019 and Today

Never get complacent with life because it has special and precious blessings. There is no guarantee on how much productive time we have for ourselves and with our family and with our extended families. Life is special whenever you can retain the good memories in your life. Unfortunately negativity is all around us if we neglect to enhance those positive moments, such as the coronavirus pandemic restrictions. Take advantage of all the free Internet web galleries where you can post your photos so you'll never misplace those important memories in your life. Consider perusing The best photo storage and sharing sites in 2020 by Tom Prospero for 11 outstanding web sites that offer a variety of photo gallery subscriptions each ranging from free to paid subscription without ads. Some of which will let you post a thousand to 2000 photos or more. Others are limited by storage space up to 16 GBs. This article contains their latest features and essential product details.

I have been posting all of my digital photos with www.jalbum.net since 2012. What I like about this company is that I can download any of my 550+ photos albums representing 14.4 GB of photos in a compressed file format directly to my computer via FTP software. Believe me, that's a lot of photos over 8+ years that I can locate within a few seconds along with important captions of each album. Below are the best photo gallery links from my family's 2019 family reunion with well over 200 candid-action photos in five different photo albums. You can easily catch the excitement of hosting a family reunion in "Golden" with more memories saved on the Internet for the convenience of the entire family in attendance plus a few distant cousins and dear friends also attended as well.
