What is RootsTech?

RootsTech is a global family history event where people of all ages learn to discover, share, and celebrate their family connections across generations through technology. At RootsTech, there is something for everyone, no matter your experience in family history or your skill level in technology.

Step One:

The like to keep things simple. You will be able to access everything for RootsTech Connect from our website www.rootstech.org when the conference goes live.

Does RootsTech offer a mobile app?

Yes. The RootsTech app is available for download on iOS and Android.

However, you will not need an app for RootsTech Connect 2021; all content for the event will be found here on our website

What is the schedule for RootsTech Connect?

They are delighted to share that RootsTech Connect is designed to work with your schedule. They will start streaming live at 7:00 PM Eastern Standard Time on February 24th (It is morning on the 25th in most of the world at that time) and follow the sun around the globe for the next 72 hours. You can join in at anytime that is convenient for you. Stop and take a rest when you need to and start again. Class sessions will all be available on demand, and accessible at any time during the event. In fact, they will be available for at least 11 months after the conference ends. The mainstage sessions will play as detailed below and then be available on demand after the event is over. View the main stage streaming schedule here.
