

Unique One-Step Webpages: Important online genealogy databases (such as passenger lists, censuses and vital, public records and much, much, much more)!!!

Never underestimate the genealogical power of technology! This posting focuses on a magnificent programming project created by Stephen P. Morse (born May 1940) who is the architect of the Intel 8086 chip and is the originator of the "One-Step" search page tools used by genealogists world-wide that is organized in twelve sections. To view this innovative research tool that most of us can benefit from, click here. There this site contains powerful tools for searching 1) immigration records, 2) census records, 3) vital records, and for dealing with 4) calendars, 5) maps, 6) foreign alphabets, and numerous other applications essential to genealogy which represents a mountain of information. Some of these tools can also fetch data from other websites, but do so in more versatile ways than the search tools provided on those original websites! Namely, Stephen P. Morse is both a pioneer/genius through his programming capabilities in conducting genealogical research. Previously, he was famous for designing creative research tools for Ellis Island and now his One-Step Websites is a landmark research tool appropriate for most of us. And it's FREE to use. Take advantage of this technology and you may become a life-long follower of this Facebook group because it will regularly be featuring cutting-edge trends in family history technology.

To Get Started!

1. Click "About this Website and How to Use it." You'll see some great examples of how and why this website is so unique and innovative.
2. The navigation box mimics the blue hyperlinked list below. Don't miss the "Births, Death and other Vital Records."
3. Perhaps that most used part of this website is the Ellis Island passenger list search options.
4. Several of the famous Morse's search tools pull data from Ancestry.com which will require a subscription.
5. Little-known aids on this website include several calendar conversion tools, such as for the Julian, Jewish and Muslim calendars. You'll also find language translation aids for Hebrew, Yiddish, Russian, Greek, Arabic, "Japanese, Chinese and Old German.

I searched for my great grandfather, Anthony Kuzmich who immigrated to the USA from Poland in 1898. And here's what I found in seconds. His place of birth is different than what I previously knew. How did I find this new village? Remember, One-Step Webpages uses many more resources than I've ever considered using before. Join the party and start using it for your relatives and there may be many pleasant surprises waiting for you! And it only took me seconds to load this information cited below but critically important in the second search that the One-Step Webpages had access to my Ancestry.Com account.

Preliminary One-Place Website Search Without Having Access to my Ancestry.Com Account
(This came out first of 91 reports because I expected exact spellings to be most accurate)

All Initial Results for Anthony Kuzmicz

Matching Person details

Spouse: Teckla BOCZNIEWICZ

Father: given name surname

Mother: given name surname

Children: given name

Birth: date date 1880 city, Malopolskie, Poland

Death: date date year city, New York, USA

Residence: date city, Passaic, New Jersey, USA

Final One-Place Website Search With Access to an Ancestry.Com Account

(In this second search, I used mid-range accuracy settings in the Search Filters and not only got nearly 600 more reports but it also completely filled in every blank from the previous search)

All Second Results for Antonius Kuzmicz

Results 1-20 of 683 (the following came up first out 683 reports because I used soundex similarities rather than exact spellings with linking to my Ancestry.com account). Notice every box is now completely filled out to fully verify my 50 years of actively genealogical research. With this definitive report, I now understand that “Malopolskie” is the county which a lengthy travel in the 1880’s from Snietnica, Poland. Initially, I was confused that it was the village of birth for my grandfather. After 50+ years, this One-Step Webpages is better than I have promoted it in this posting and I didn’t have to contact my Polish genealogist in Poland to verify at all. Believe me, this posting is being sent to him and I can’t wait for his comments to add to this posting of how the One-Step Webpages is going to help him in research for his many clients. And with both searches, I didn’t have to sort through the 91 and 683 reports at all, because the first listing in each report matched my research findings.
