

Overwhelmed by the Magnitude of RootsTech 2021? Consider these Strategies in Taking the First Steps in Establishing a V.I.P. Playlist with Long-Term Temple & Family History Benefits.

The magnitude of RootsTech 2021 Connect can be overwhelming with its 1,500+ presentations. Consider using YouTube by searching on “FamilySearch RootsTech 2021”. There, you can be showered by many, many video clips from this landmark genealogy conference. Select the topics that makes sense to you. View them and if you like any of them, subscribe to them and you’ll receive on-going video clip suggestions in the future. FamilySearch has a particularly good relationship with RootsTech 2021 and you’ll be updated systematically with appropriately related video clips. This morning I select Steve Rockwood’s presentation entitled: “Finding Family Connection in the Past, Present, and Future: Steve Rockwood, FamilySearch CEO” at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3cmj5kGm2Xw> in 26 minutes. View it and now you’ll know why he is their CEO for connecting the past, the present and the future together for connecting to all of us today! And specifically, for addressing the RootsTech 2021 subtheme of “Connecting with Others.” This presentation was given from the last day of RootsTech 2021 which is a reflection for the significance of this landmark conference. Your individual story that you can be inspired to record is very important to share with your families and yes, maybe even globally through social medias as you view its importance to be shared with others.

Closing Comments

Take the first steps in perusing the best presentation at RootsTech 2021 Connect in a systematic process over time with your personalized Playlist. And the technology connections between YouTube.com and FamilySearch.org with RootsTech 2021, and you will not be overwhelmed any more. But now have orderly manner to benefit from the latest developments between FamilySearch and RootsTech. Now is the perfect time to capture our own individual personal story and connect it to a global story. You will not be disappointed with Steve Rockwood. Your stories can be captured in words, songs, poems, and photos/videos. They can either be short or long. At the conclusion, Steve videoconferences with his four sons and asks them to reflect on their effects of their Covid 19 pandemic and the sons were excellent in their reflections of how the pandemic interrupted their lives. Namely, their feelings were recorded when instances occurred and how their feelings even changed even later for a more complete story.

Don't anticipate lengthy video clips. Some can be rather short within 5 or 10 minutes while others can be in more depth longer. Do a search as suggested above. Believe me, there are more video clips available than you ever guess. Welcome to the 21st century. And by subscribing, technology will creatively match you up with the topics that are customized and more appropriate for you to literally create a personalized playlist that is best and most relevant for you to continue the benefits of the today's YouTube technologies between FamilySearch and RootsTech in a meaningful manner which can be as valuable as the old-fashioned alarm clock in starting your mornings on-task! Start with Steve Rockwood's closing day comments and you will be motivated to subscribe to others. Take the first steps and start your YouTube subscription today as it is free. Please add your comments of which YouTube.com subscriptions were particularly positive for you in helping to establish your own Playlist between YouTube, FamilySearch and RootsTech 2021! Much like the Steve Rockwood was to me! And all of us can learn from each other's discovery learning in this posting through your posted comments for this posting! Please contribute so all the Foothills Ward Temple & Family History Facebook Group followers can benefit immeasurably.

