

Stay UP-TO-DATE with The Family History Guide!

The world keeps changing and so do the expectations of conducting family original history research with The Family History Guide.

Updates from

The Family History Guide Blog

... See the latest news about your free learning and training site for family history!

In the 03/30/2020 edition:

A New Partnership: The Family History Guide and Goldie May

By Bob Taylor on Mar 29, 2020 03:28 pm

Last week we featured an article written by James Tanner about the new Goldie May research assistant. It's a powerful and user-friendly Chrome extension that helps you track your research progress on FamilySearch. This week we are excited to announce that Goldie May has been selected as an Authorized Training Partner for The Family History Guide Association. What This Means...

The World at Your Fingertips

By Bob Taylor on Mar 29, 2020 02:41 pm

From Bob Ives, Executive Director of The Family History Guide Association: What to do ... what to do ... what to do? If you are self-quarantined and have kids and youth to entertain, The Family History Guide can help. Did you know that you can go on a world tour, right from your own home or apartment? Kids can visit...

Retired Pages in The Family History Guide

By Bob Taylor on Mar 29, 2020 02:41 pm

Following suggestions from FamilySearch, we are retiring the Train Consultants and Leadership Resources pages in The Family History Guide. This is to avoid any possible misunderstanding about providing guidance in callings in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. FamilySearch continues to approve The Family History Guide as a training resource (see the link at the bottom of our...

Visit The Family History Guide website

Visit The Family History Guide Association

Small World:

Bob Taylor and I attended BYU together when I was pursuing my Ph.D. degree in music education. Bob is an accomplished jazz trumpet player and so would I be, if I'd practice saxophone more!