A good working definition of archaeological research is the scientific study of material remains (such as tools, pottery, jewelry, stone walls, and monuments) of past human life and activities. Taking it one step further, archaeological research can be useful for studying the remains of the culture of a people. In the case with references to the Mayan people in the Book of Mormon times from approximately 580 BC to 400+ AD, there is a wealth of remnants of the Book of Mormon pertaining to Jesus Christ following his crucifixion in the Americas. In spite of the many present-day ongoing armed wars affecting the world at https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List_of_ongoing_armed_conflicts and the COVID 19 pandemic, Paradise is still on the earth today and is not lost! In February 2022 I will be on another dynamic Keith Handy tour of the Yucatan which has more archaeological references to Jesus Christ than any other place in the world, including Israel.

For those of you who may doubt the credibility of the previous paragraph, here's an informative 3:43 minute video clip that has descriptive photos that clearly illustrate these archaeological research findings currently available at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uqzzPJg6umM>. By-pass any companion ads which are not equal in their editorial content. Behind every scene in this video clip is a story beyond belief with full explanations readily available in Keith Handy's long-awaited 2021 book: FINDING CHRIST While on the Trail of the Three Brothers. Which provides powerful evidences of Christ that have been left in stone by those that knew Him and by the Three Brothers who were continually declaring His name for 1500 years who taught about a great God who had come down out of heaven to heal the sick and raise the dead. But more importantly, they taught that He had descended into death and hell and then risen again with the breath of life in His nostrils.

Family Is Central to God's Plan

"The Family: A Proclamation to the World" at www.churchofjesuschrist.org/study/scriptures/the-family-a-proclamation-to-the-world/the-family-a-proclamation-to-the-world?lang=eng states that "marriage between a man and a woman is ordained of God and that the family is central to the Creator's plan for the eternal destiny of His children" (Ensign or Liahona, Nov. 2010, 129).
