Looking for more Engaging Family History Activities? Read On! (reads better at http://www.kuzmich4.com/Facebook/The%20Latest%20News%20from%20The%20Family%20History%20 Guide.pdf)

Recently there have been added over 25 fun and engaging family history activities to The Family History Guide, in all our major groups: Family, Individuals, Youth, and Kids. These activities are from a variety of sources, including the Weekly Family History Activities pages. Here's a summary of the new activities – be sure to check out the pages on the site as well at https://www.thefhguide.com/blog/new-family-history-activities-in-the-family-history-guide/. Note: there are now well over 200 fun activities for families to correlate their family history with the entire family. For activities for members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, click here.

It is hoped you will enjoy the new activities, and feel free to share them with others! These activities are organized into the following groupings:

- Family Activities:
- Activities for Individuals
- Activities for Youth
- Activities for Kids

Closing Comments

The Family History Guide is a free learning, research, and activities center for family history. Their website was started in July 2015. Is this site free? Yes. There are no fees or subscriptions for using the website or its contents. Getting more people involved with family history, and more effectively, is the mission of The Family History Guide Association. How does your organization make money through private and corporate donations are the main source of their revenue. There are no ads on their site. There's a Donate button at the bottom of each page on the site, and they have a Marketplace (see the Misc. menu). Does The Family History Guide accept advertising or promote commercial products? There is no advertising on their website. Whenever you link to commercial websites, it is to highlight the free resources there. Exception: when you link to a commercial DNA testing sites, as there are currently no sites producing reliable DNA results for free. Does The Family History Guide Association do genealogy research for individuals? They do not, but there are many family history centers and genealogical societies who can help, as well as professional researchers. Desire more postings about The Family History Guide? Below is a list of our previous Facebook Group postings:

- Must Be Familiar With "The Family History Guide": via its unique self-paced and self-training contents and mission statement (reads better at http://www.kuzmich4.com/Facebook/Must%20Be%20Familiar.pdf): or see October 7, 2022 posting
- Discovering the Knowledgebase: Never Underestimate This Feature for The Family History Guide: reads better at http://www.kuzmich4.com/.../The%20Family%20History... or see July 12, 2022 posting

- The Latest News from The Family History Guide from Bob Taylor at:

 http://www.kuzmich4.com/Facebook/The%20Latest%20News%20from%20The%20Family%20History%20Guide.pdf. Click on each image for clarity of content: or see March 9, 2021 posting
- Brand-New Look for The Family History Guide Home Page at http://www.kuzmich4.com/Facebook/New%20Look%20for%20FH%20Guide.pdf: or see April 5, 2021 posting
- Important Updates from The Family History Guide Blog: or see May 19, 2020 posting
- Updates from The Family History Guide Blog: or see April 27;, 2020 posting
- New Posts from The Family History Guide Blog for 04/06/2020: or see April 7, 2020 posting
- or see March 30, 2020 posting
- The Family History Companion Guide: or see March 5, 2020 posting
- The Family History Guide's Come, Follow Me Companion Lessons: Week 47: December 2 December 8 or see November 24 posting
- The Family History Guide Tutorials or see July 12 and May 29, 2019 postings
- The Family History Guide: The most extensive series of Tutorials for learning FamilySearch, Ancestry, My Heritage and Find My Past with Original research with over 150+ countries: visit May 29 posting

About the Projects

