

New "Family History Level 4" Self-training

Smile! During these challenging times there remains many great opportunities for you to move the work of salvation forward. Continuing your own family history self-training's is one of those opportunities. To that end, please find attached the New "Family History Level 4 Self-training" (it is similar to the Coronavirus Activity sent last week). This is a fun one for you to do and to encourage/help others to do! Last month you received newly revised Level's 1-3 Self-Training's. None of these take much time, but all are useful in learning how to creatively use FamilySearch.org with its many creative, innovative features of incorporating family history with family members and sharing it with others.

Many thanks for your continued efforts! Be safe! Be thankful that we have this time to learn the latest training materials that I've shared with you. Again, give Bob Lathen of the Littleton Family History Center credit for designing this latest fun tutorial for our use.
